1 Let's get started

Now you can manage your Health First Colorado benefits on the go with the PEAK website and Health First Colorado app. Both give you easy access to what you need 24 hours a day, every day of the year. Children in foster care do not have access to PEAK or the app.

Step 1. Create an account

1. Go to CO.gov/PEAK. Or download the free Health First Colorado app.
2. Use a personal email address or mobile number to sign in.

Your email and password will be the same for the PEAK website and the app.

Step 2. Manage your health care

The Health First Colorado app gives you easy access to tools that help you manage your health coverage.

Use the Health First Colorado mobile app to:

- Find out if your coverage is active
- View your member ID card
- View your letters
- Find out if you have a co-pay
- Complete renewals and upload documents
- Contact your county, regional organization and PCP
- Make changes to who is in your home, like adding a family member or telling us you're pregnant
- Learn about your benefits
- Update your information

- Find providers near you
- Pay premium, if buy-in member
- Find rides to your medical appointments
- Call the Nurse Advice Line, Colorado Crisis Center or smoking Quitline
- View the member handbook

Download the free Health First Colorado app today from the Apple App Store or Google Play Store.

Your Health First Colorado card

Your mobile member ID card:

- Is available right away in the Health First Colorado app
- Is an easy way to show providers your coverage
- Tells you if your coverage is active or inactive. If your coverage is inactive, it has stopped and you do not have current benefits. You may not need to reapply. Contact your Eligibility Site. You can also appeal. Read more in Part 6: Appeals.

An Eligibility Site is a full-service place, like a county office or medical assistance site, where you can apply for and update your Health First Colorado coverage. Find an Eligibility Site near you at CO.gov/apps/maps/hcpf.map.

If you want a paper card, you can print one from CO.gov/PEAK. Or you can ask us to mail you a card. Call the Health First Colorado Member Contact Center at 800-221-3943 (State Relay 711) Monday to Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The call is free. The Health First Colorado Member Contact Center closes at 2:00 p.m. on the 3rd Thursday of every month. It reopens for normal hours the next day.

You do not need a card to get services. You do need your date of birth and either your Social Security number or your Health First Colorado ID Number (member ID). Your ID Number is a letter plus 6 numbers. For example, A123456. If your Health First Colorado coverage ends and starts again, your number stays the same.

2 Health care organizations

Health First Colorado covers your health care, including:

- Physical health
- Dental health
- Vision health
- Behavioral health

A health plan is a group of doctors, hospitals and other providers who work together to get you the health care you need.

Regional organizations

Your regional organization, also called a Regional Accountable Entity (RAE), manages your physical and behavioral health care. Your regional organization supports a network of providers to make sure you can get care for your body, vision, mental health and substance use in a coordinated way. Every Health First Colorado member belongs to a regional organization. Your regional organization is on your enrollment letter, Health First Colorado ID, and on the PEAK and Health First Colorado Mobile App.

If you have special health care needs and your regional organization changes, your new regional organization will make sure all of your care is continued and coordinated. To learn more, read the ACC transition of care policy (<https://hcpf.colorado.gov/sites/hcpf/files/ACC%20Transition%20of%20Care%20Policy.pdf>).

Contact your regional organization to get help managing your care.

To find out more, go to MyCOHibi.com or call 855-692-6442 (State Relay 711).

3 Providers and getting care

Your primary care provider (PCP)

Your primary care provider (PCP) is a doctor or nurse practitioner (NP) who helps you get and stay healthy. Your PCP is your main contact for all your health care. Your PCP can answer your health questions and help you get the health care you need. Your PCP works with nurses, physician assistants (PAs) and social workers in the clinic or office. They may help you when you visit.

Your PCP will get to know you, your medical history and your health goals. You should go to your PCP:

- For physical exams
- For preventive care services
- When you have questions or concerns about your health
- When you are not feeling well and need medical help

If you have a child, your PCP can help with their development and wellbeing for free. To learn more, read Part 5: Child and Youth Well Care.

Participating providers

It is important that the providers you choose accept Health First Colorado members and are part of the Health First Colorado provider network. If you have Elevate (Denver Health) Medicaid Choice or Rocky Mountain Health Plans Prime, your providers must be participating providers. This means they need to be in your managed care health plan network. A network is a group of providers who are contracted to give health care services and products to health plan members.

A non-participating provider is a provider, facility or supplier who does not give health care services and products to health plan members. If one of your providers is not a participating provider, you can ask them to join the network.

Choosing a PCP

We will give you a PCP right away. Your PCP is noted on your enrollment letter and your Health First Colorado card. You can change your PCP at any time. Ask your doctor's office if they take Health First Colorado. Go to Enroll.HealthFirstColorado.com or call 303-839-2120 or 888-367-6557 (State Relay 711). Call Monday to Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. The call is free.

If your managed care health plan is Elevate (Denver Health) Medicaid Choice or Rocky Mountain Health Plans Prime, contact them to change your PCP.

Finding participating providers

There are many ways to find a PCP or other providers, such as specialists. A specialist is a provider who works in one area of medicine, like a surgeon.

- Search for all types of providers on the Health First Colorado app or go to HealthFirstColorado.com/find-doctors. Or contact your regional organization. The number is on your Health First Colorado card.
- To find a PCP, go to Enroll.HealthFirstColorado.com or call 303-839-2120 or 888-367-6557 (State Relay 711).
- To find dental providers, call DentaQuest's Member Services at 855-225-1729 (State Relay 711). Or go to DentaQuest.com/en/providers/colorado or HealthFirstColorado.com/find-doctors.

- Find behavioral health providers and community mental health centers on the Health First Colorado app. Or go to HealthFirstColorado.com/find-doctors. You can also call your regional organization. If your regional organization says you are not covered for treatment, they must help you find other treatment options.
- If you need help finding a doctor and your managed care health plan is Elevate (Denver Health) Medicaid Choice or Rocky Mountain Health Plans Prime, contact them.

All Health First Colorado providers and partners can use aids and services to communicate with people with disabilities. They can also communicate with you in another language or format. Tell your provider what you need.

Getting to your appointment

If you need a ride and live in Adams, Arapahoe, Boulder, Broomfield, Denver, Douglas, Jefferson, Larimer or Weld county, call IntelliRide at 855-489-4999 (toll free) (State Relay 711). Or go to transdevhealthsolutions.com.

If you live in any other county in Colorado, contact a local ride provider. You can find local providers at hcpf.colorado.gov/nemtlit.

Telemedicine

- Telemedicine is having a provider visit over the phone or using video.
- Telemedicine does not provide all services. Some services require in-person visits.
- Telemedicine visits are covered for all Health First Colorado members, just like in-person visits.
- Ask your provider if they do phone or video visits.
- All care and services must be Health First Colorado covered benefits.
- Telemedicine cannot be used for anything Health First Colorado doesn't cover.
- Talk to your regional organization if you want to use Telemedicine for behavioral health visits.

Canceling and rescheduling

If you can't make your appointment or are going to be late, call your provider's office right away. Most providers ask you to call 24 hours before your appointment if you have to cancel.

Providers cannot charge you a fee if you miss an appointment and do not call in advance. But they might decide not to keep you as a patient. Providers make their own policies about late or missed appointments. Ask your provider about their policy. Ask if you can have a written copy.

Referrals

You may need a referral from your PCP or health plan to go to other providers, such as specialists. You can call your PCP or health plan to find out.

You do not need a referral to go to behavioral health, dental or family planning providers.

Second opinions

You have the right to a second opinion. You do not need a referral to go to a participating provider for a second opinion about your care. You may need to pay a co-pay at your visit.

Advance directives

Advance directives are written instructions to those caring for you that tell them what to do in case you can't make decisions for yourself. They list the type of care you do or do not want if you become so ill or injured that you cannot speak for yourself. Your PCP or health plan can tell you more and give you an advance directives form. Or go to cobar.org/advanceMedicalDirectives.

If you think your provider is not following your advance directive, you can file a complaint at cdphe.colorado.gov/health-facilities/file-a-complaint/health-facilities-complaint-contacts.

The Health First Colorado Nurse Advice Line gives you free medical information and advice 24 hours a day, every day of the year. Call 800-283-3221 (State Relay 711).

Nurse Advice Line

The Health First Colorado Nurse Advice Line gives you free medical information and advice 24 hours a day, every day of the year. Call 800-283-3221 (State Relay 711) to:

- Talk to a nurse who will answer medical questions, give care advice and help you decide if you should go to a provider right away.
- Get help with medical conditions such as diabetes or asthma, including advice about what kind of provider may be right for your medical condition.

The Nurse Advice Line cannot help with clinic appointments or medication refills. Call your provider's office if you need help with these.

Urgent care

Urgent care is for a sickness or injury that needs medical care quickly. If it's not an emergency but you need medical attention quickly, first call your PCP. Your PCP may help you in their office or over the phone. If you're not sure if your symptoms are urgent or you need help deciding, call the free Nurse Advice Line at 800-283-3221 (State Relay 711).

Emergencies

An emergency is when an illness or injury is so serious that you, your child's or your unborn baby's health, bodily functions, body organs or body parts may be in danger if you don't get medical care right away. This includes childbirth labor and delivery. If you are not sure it's an emergency, call the Nurse Advice Line at 800-283-3221 (State Relay 711).

If you are having an emergency, you can get emergency services in any emergency department in the United States that is enrolled with Health First Colorado, 24 hours a day, every day of the year. This includes ambulance and emergency room care. If you are having an emergency, call 911. Or go to the nearest emergency room. You do not need pre-approval. Pre-approval is getting approval for services before you use them. You can also get care right after the emergency to help you recover. This is called post-stabilization services. Health First Colorado can only pay for services provided by enrolled providers, and can help providers enroll if needed.

Ready to quit smoking? Get free nicotine patches, gum and counseling. Call 800-QUIT-NOW (800-784-8669) to find out how. Or go to CoQuitLine.org. It's free!

Co-pays

For some services, you may have a co-pay. This is a fixed amount you pay when you get a covered health care service. The co-pay amount depends on the service. There are no co-pays for behavioral health, preventative care, family planning, or dental services.

You never have to pay more than the co-pay for covered services. This is true even if you also have other insurance. You do have to pay for services that are not covered. It's the law!

If you cannot pay the co-pay right away, the provider must still help you. You will have to pay the co-pay later.

There is a limit on the co-pays you pay each month. If you or a member of your household pays 5% of your monthly income in co-pays, you do not have co-pays for the rest of that month. You will get a letter when you reach your monthly limit. For co-pay amounts, go to healthfirstcolorado.com/benefits-services.

These Health First Colorado members do not have co-pays:

- Children age 18 and younger (members age 19 and 20 have co-pays)
- Members in the maternity cycle (pregnancy, labor, birth and up to 12 months after delivery)
- Members who choose Elevate (Denver Health) Medicaid Choice as their managed care health plan (members who choose Denver Health as their Health First Colorado PCP and Colorado Access as their regional organization, except those listed here, will have co-pays)
- Members who choose Rocky Mountain Health Plans Prime as their managed care health plan do not have medical co-pays. They do have prescription drug co-pays.
- Members who live in a nursing home
- Members who get hospice care

- American Indian or Alaska Native members who have ever received care from Indian Health Services
- Former foster care children ages 18 through the end of the month of their 26th birthday for medical services
- Members enrolled in the Breast and Cervical Cancer Program

Health First Colorado pays for services that are covered member benefits. If you have a bill or collection notice for services you got while you were a Health First Colorado member, here's what to do:

- Check to make sure you were eligible for Health First Colorado on the date you got the service.
- If you were eligible, call the provider's office. Tell them you were eligible for Health First Colorado on the date you got the service. You can also tell the provider to call Health First Colorado Provider Services if they have problems billing.

By federal and state law (Colorado Revised Statutes 25.5-4-301), it is illegal to bill a Health First Colorado member for covered services. If you cannot resolve a billing problem with your provider, call the Health First Colorado Member Contact Center at 800-221-3943 (State Relay 711) Monday to Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The call is free. The Health First Colorado Member Contact Center closes at 2:00 p.m. on the 3rd Thursday of every month. It reopens for normal hours the next day.

Premiums

Some members pay Health First Colorado a premium (monthly cost for coverage). Members in the Children with Disabilities Buy-In Program or the Working Adults with Disabilities Program have monthly premiums. To learn more, go to hcpf.colorado.gov/health-first-colorado-buy-in-programs.

Estate recovery

Estate recovery is for special cases when a member dies in a nursing home or assisted living facility or is over age 55 at death. In those cases, Health First Colorado may recover some of the costs of care from the member's estate. You may want to tell family members about estate recovery.

To learn more about estate recovery and exemptions, contact your county. You can find out the name and contact information for your county at CO.gov/cdhs/contact-your-county.

Use the Health First Colorado mobile app and take control of your coverage!

By age 1, or when your child gets a first tooth, your child needs dental health check-ups and cleanings every 6 months.

Your child can get dental services such as:

- Office visits
- Teeth cleanings
- Fluoride treatment

- Space maintainers
- Oral examinations

Help getting child and youth well care services

Your regional organization can help Health First Colorado members ages 20 and younger and pregnant members get the services they need. Your regional organization can:

- Tell you about services you can get
- Find providers
- Make appointments for you

- Coordinate your health information between providers
- Connect you to other community services or programs such as food banks, housing agencies, child care, Head Start, Early Head Start, HCP (a program for children and youth with special health care needs) and the Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC)

Your regional organization cannot:

- Decide or approve physical benefits or coverage
- Help you apply for or get Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF), Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) or Cash Assistance

To apply for any of the programs listed above, go to CO.gov/PEAK. To learn more about these programs, go to the "Other Programs and Services" section in your handbook at CO.gov/PEAK.

Mental health

If you think your child needs residential mental health treatment, call your regional organization for an assessment. The Children and Youth Mental Health Treatment Act says your child must be assessed and you must get a decision on treatment in a timely way.

If you lose your Health First Colorado coverage and cannot afford needed mental health treatment for your child, call the Behavioral Health Administration at 303-866-7400 (State Relay 711). The Children and Youth Mental Health Treatment Act may be able to help.

6 Appeals

(if you disagree with a decision)

You have a right to file an appeal. You can appeal if you disagree with your eligibility (coverage) decision. You can also appeal any decision about services. You must appeal no later than 60 days after the date on your Notice of Action.

If you disagree with a coverage decision, you may ask for an informal meeting or a formal hearing or for both at the same time. To ask for a meeting, follow the instructions on your Notice of Action. You must ask no later than 60 days after the date on your Notice of Action.

You can also file an appeal or ask for an expedited (rush) appeal at the same time. Your appeal must be no later than 60 days after the date on your Notice of Action. For more on expedited appeals, read Asking for an expedited \(rush\) appeal on page 32.

You can appeal a service decision to your health plan no later than 60 days after the date on your Notice of Action if:

- A service you get is set to be reduced, suspended or stopped
- A type or level of service you requested is denied or limited
- You are not given notice of a service decision in a timely way
- You are not given a reply to your complaint or appeal within required times
- Your request to get behavioral health care outside your regional organization network is denied, and you live in a rural area where there are no providers in your regional organization
- Payment for all or part of your health services is denied
- Your request to dispute cost sharing, co-pays, premiums, deductibles, co-insurance or other plan costs is denied

Filing an appeal cannot cause you to lose coverage. That's the law!

Notice of Action / Notice of Adverse Benefit Determination

For any decision that affects your Health First Colorado coverage or services, you will get a letter. The letter is called a Notice of Action (eligibility or coverage decision) or a Notice of Adverse Benefit Determination (service decision). It tells you the decision, why the decision was made and how to appeal if you disagree.

Filing an appeal

If you disagree with an eligibility (coverage) or service decision, you must appeal no later than 60 days after the date on the Notice of Action or Notice of Adverse Benefit Determination letter.

To start your appeal, follow the directions on the Notice of Action or Notice of Adverse Benefit Determination. The notice may say you can tell your Eligibility Site or health plan that you disagree with the decision. Or it may say you can send a Letter of Appeal to the Office of Administrative Courts. Appeals to your health plan do not have to be in writing. Be sure to follow the directions on your letter.

When you appeal a service decision to your health plan, you can ask your health plan for a complete copy of your file. It will include your medical records plus other documents and records that will be considered in the appeal process. Your health plan will send the file copy free of charge.

Getting help with an appeal

You have the right to speak for yourself at your State Fair Hearing appeal. Or you may choose someone to help you. Anyone can help you file an appeal. If you want someone to represent you or get information about your case, you must approve their help in writing. They can be a provider, an advocate, a lawyer, a family member or any other person you trust.

After you appeal to your health plan

After you appeal, you will get a letter within 2 business days. The letter will say that your health plan received your appeal. The letter may also ask for more information. You can call your health plan to ask for more time to get the information they need.

In most cases, you will get a decision within 10 business days from when your health plan received your letter. If you don't agree with the decision they made about your appeal, you can ask for a State Fair Hearing. If your health plan does not follow the timelines in this section, you may ask for a State Fair Hearing, even if your appeal hasn't been decided yet.

Asking for an expedited (rush) appeal

If you think that waiting for a decision on your health plan or coverage appeal would seriously affect the life or health of you or your covered child, you may ask for an expedited (rush) appeal. Give us as much information as you can. Also give any documents that show why waiting will seriously affect your life or health.

For appeals about level or type of service:

- The organization receiving your appeal will decide if you can get an expedited appeal for level or type of service appeals.
- The health plan will send you a letter within 2 calendar days if they deny your expedited appeal request. The Department will send you a letter within 3 business days if they deny your expedited appeal request.
- If they deny your expedited appeal request:
 - » The health plan will try to call you to tell you they denied your request for an expedited review.
- You will get a letter telling you:
 - » Why they denied your request for an expedited review
 - » That you can file a grievance if you disagree with their decision
- The health plan will send their appeal decision within 10 business days

If they approve your expedited appeal request:

- The health plan will make a decision in 72 hours
- The Department will call you to set up a hearing. After your hearing, the Department will give you a decision within 3 business days after the Department gets your request if your appeal involves a level or type of service issue, or 7 business days after the Department gets your request if your appeal involves an eligibility issue.

State Fair Hearing (formal hearing)

A State Fair Hearing is a court hearing with an Administrative Law Judge.

If you don't agree with the appeal decision your health plan made, you can ask for a State Fair Hearing. To ask for a State Fair Hearing, you have to wait until you get a decision from your health plan about your appeal. You must ask for a State Fair Hearing within 120 days from when you receive the appeal decision from your health plan.

If you are not enrolled with Elevate (Denver Health) Medicaid Choice or Rocky Mountain Health Plans Prime and you get a physical health service decision you don't agree with, you must ask for a State Fair Hearing no later than 60 days after the date on your Notice of Adverse Determination Letter.

You can make your request by phone, mail, email, in person or online at colorado.gov/oac/oac-form-links. If you mail your request, be sure to sign it and include your:

- Name
- Mailing address
- Phone number
- Email address
- Health First Colorado ID and Case ID
- Reason for your appeal
- Copy of the notice with the decision you are appealing

After you file an appeal, the Office of Administrative Courts will send back copies of the documents you filed.

Send your request to:

Office of Administrative Courts

1525 Sherman Street, 4th Floor

Denver, CO 80203

Phone: 303-866-2000

Fax: 303-866-5909

Email: oac-gs@state.co.us

The Office of Administrative Courts will send you a letter about the hearing. They will give you a hearing date. Before and during the hearing, you or the person you choose can give information to support your case. The Judge will make an Initial Decision. The Department of Health Care Policy and Financing will review the Judge's decision and issue a Final Agency Decision.

Keeping Health First Colorado coverage or services during an appeal

If you are receiving benefits and you request an appeal hearing no later than 10 days after the Date of Action, you will continue to receive Health First Colorado benefits during the appeal through the final agency decision.

If you get a letter (Notice of Adverse Benefit Determination) from your health plan telling you they are ending or changing your services before your service authorization is scheduled to end, you can ask the health plan to continue the services during your appeal.

7 Complaints

You have a right to complain. This may also be called a grievance. You can file a complaint about anything. If your complaint is about coverage or pre-approval of services, it is an appeal. Read Chapter 6, Appeals. For example, you can complain if you are unhappy with your service or think you were treated unfairly. You cannot lose your coverage for filing a complaint. That's the law!

If your complaint is about your provider, you can always talk to your provider. You can make a complaint to your health plan any time.

How to file a complaint with your regional organization

If you have a complaint, you can file it at any time. You or the person you choose to help you can complain in person, by phone, by mail or by email. Emails may not be secure. Include your name, member ID, address and phone number.

You can get help by calling your regional organization or DentaQuest. Or call the Ombudsman for Health First Colorado Managed Care at 303-830-3560 or 877-435-7123 (State Relay 711). Or email help123@maximus.com.

After you file a complaint with your health plan

Your health plan will send you a letter within 2 business days to tell you they got your complaint. Someone who was not involved in your situation will review your complaint. They will work with you to solve the problem. They may contact you or the person you chose to help you. Within 90 days, they will send another letter. The letter will tell you what they decided and when they made the decision.

Second reviews

If you do not agree with the answer you get from your health plan, you can ask for a second review of your complaint.

You can ask for a second review by contacting:

Colorado Department of Health Care
Policy and Financing

303 E. 17th Avenue, Suite 1100

Denver, CO 80203

Phone: 303-866-4623

Email: hcpf_mcos@state.co.us

If you ask for a second review of your complaint, HCPF will work with you and send you a letter about their review. This decision is final.

How to file a complaint about access to behavioral health care

Your health plan is subject to the Mental Health Parity Addiction Equity Act of 2008 (MHPAEA). This means that your covered behavioral health benefits cannot be more difficult to access than physical health benefits. A denial, restriction or withholding of behavioral health services could be a potential violation of MHPAEA.

File a complaint with the Behavioral Health Ombudsman Office of Colorado if you have a parity concern.

You can make a complaint by contacting:

Behavioral Health Ombudsman
Office of Colorado

Phone: 303-866-2789

Email: ombuds@bhoco.org

Website: bhoco.org

A representative of the Ombudsman Office will call or reply to you. You can also ask your behavioral health provider or guardian/legal representative to file a complaint for you.
